COMMENT

RIVALRY being what it is, there is always something extra special about a "local derby". Irrespective of League positions, a clash between local clubs produces an air of excitement and anticipation that usually transmits itself to the players.

Here in London, we are fortunate as First Division members to have as many as four double engagements with neighbouring clubs. London has never had more than five First Division clubs at one time, but providing no club from the Metropolis suffers relegation at the end of this season, and Queen's Park Rangers succeed in winning promotion, the capital would have its strongest-ever representation in 1970-71.

West Ham United's visit is always one of our biggest attractions of the season, and we look forward with relish to an entertaining and skilful match with our East London neighbours.

GOOD RECORD

Spurs' record this season against London opponents is particularly good, and naturally we hope to maintain it today.

We have met each of the other four London First Division clubs once, and from those eight League games have dropped only one point. Significantly, having regard to the comparison between our home and away record, the dropped point was here at White Hart Lane on the occasion of Chelsea's visit in August.

That match resulted in a 1-1 draw, and we have, of course, still to visit Chelsea for the return game. Our other three matches with London clubs were all away from home, and we can reflect happily on victories at Crystal Palace, West Ham and Arsenal.

Palace were defeated 2-0 at Selhurst Park in August, a goal by Jimmy Pearce gave us both points at West Ham in September, and later that month we pulled off a 3-2 win over Arsenal at Highbury.

UNOFFICIAL LEAD!

All this may mean little when the ball is in motion this afternoon, and another slice of Spurs-West Ham history is being carved out by the players.

QUIZ FOR TODAY—Answers on page 13

1. Which club lost to West Ham in the final of the European Cup Winners' Cup in 1965?
2. A former West Ham and Spurs inside-forward has been manager of a Southern League club for many years. Who is he and which club does he manage?
3. Which club knocked West Ham out of the F.A. Cup last season, and in which round?
4. Can you name the centre-forward who was transferred from West Ham to Spurs in 1946?
5. Two former West Ham players are now managers of First Division clubs. Who are they?

Nevertheless, a lot of interest is shown in the respective performances of the London teams, and when we were at Upton Park in September, West Ham published what they described as "London's Unofficial Championship" in their programme.

At that time the Hammers were top, and the Spurs second. Now Spurs are on top, and we hope it stays that way.

In order to meet the printers' deadline, these notes had to be completed before West Ham's away match with Leeds United, and our own home fixture with Everton, on Wednesday evening, and no reference can therefore be made to those important engagements.

HAMMERS' RECORD

Here is West Ham's home record in the League:

Newcastle United (Hurst)	1-0
Chelsea (Peters, Hurst)	2-0
West Bromwich Albion (Hurst)	1-3
Arsenal (Cross)	1-1
Tottenham Hotspur	0-1
Sheffield Wednesday	3-0
(Redknapp, Branfoot o.g., Hurst)
Burnley (Best 2, Brooking)	3-1
Stoke City (Best, Brooking, Sissons)	3-3
Sunderland (Peters)	1-1
Crystal Palace (Best, Hurst)	2-1
Derby County (Hurst 2, Peters)	3-0
Manchester City	0-4
Everton	0-1

Prior to Wednesday's visit to Leeds, West Ham had played the following 10 away League matches:

Stoke City (Lindsay)	1-2
Chelsea	0-0
Nottingham Forest	0-1
Everton	0-2
Manchester United (Hurst 2)	2-5
Coventry City (Brooking, Sissons)	2-2
Wolverhampton Wanderers	0-1
Southampton (Brooking)	1-1
Liverpool	0-2
Ipswich Town	0-1

In the Football League Cup, West Ham lost 1-0 away to Nottingham Forest after beating Halifax Town 4-2 in a home tie.

LAST SEASON

When West Ham were here last season, the only goal of the match was scored by Jimmy Greaves just after half-time.

It was a splendid move that produced the winning goal, although Jimmy's final shot found its way into the net through goalkeeper Peter Grotier's legs.

Spurs just about deserved to win an evenly contested game.

SPURS: Jennings; Beal, Knowles; Mullery, England (sub. Collins, P.), Pratt; Johnson, Greaves, Gilzean, Pearce and Morgan.

WEST HAM: Grotier; Bonds, Charles, J.; Howe, Stephenson, Moore; Redknapp, Boyce, Hurst, Peters and Sissons.

Attendance: 50,970.

HAMMERS' CHIEF

Mr. Ron Greenwood, the West Ham manager, is one of the most respected officials in football, and he is always a welcome visitor to this ground.

Mr. Greenwood was born at Burnley, but has spent most of his life in the South. He played at centre-half for Chelsea, Bradford, Brentford and Fulham.

At one time manager of the England Youth team, he also had a spell in charge of Eastbourne United. After serving Arsenal as assistant-manager, he took over at West Ham in April, 1961.

MAN IN CHARGE

Referee for today is Mr. Leo Callaghan of Merthyr Tydfil.

Mr. Callaghan joined the Football League's Supplementary List of Referees as long ago as 1954, and is therefore one of the most experienced officials in the game.

He was in charge of the 1968 F.A. Cup Final between Everton and West Bromwich Albion, and also handled matches in the World Cup series in 1966.

Mr. Callaghan first turned to refereeing while serving with the R.A.F. He then graduated to the Welsh League via the Merthyr and District League, and later earned promotion to the Football League Linesmen's List.

Employed as Assistant Children's Officer in the local Welfare Department at Merthyr, Mr. Callaghan is married with a five-year-old daughter.

In addition to football and youth work, he is keen on amateur boxing.

Last Saturday he refereed the Liverpool-Manchester United match.

WELCOME TO HAMMERS . . .

WEST HAM'S last appearance on this ground was in mid-April, virtually half a season ago in playing time. Most of the players paraded by the Hammers that day will be on show this afternoon, but as with the majority of clubs, there has been some change in the composition of the side.

Peter Grotier made his debut as West Ham's League goalkeeper against us last season, but the experienced Bobby Ferguson returned when the current season opened.

Ferguson is a full Scottish international, who has also played for the Scottish League and Scottish Youth elevens. He comes from Ardrossan, and made his name with Kilmarnock.

Full-back Frank Lampard, who played against us at Upton Park in September, has made a good recovery after breaking a leg in the spring of 1968. He is one of West Ham's many local discoveries.

FROM BERMUDA

Winger Clyde Best is new to League football this season. He was born in Bermuda, and played for the local Somerset F.C. and later the Bermuda Youth team. Best played twice for Bermuda in the qualifying series of the 1970 World Cup.

Trevor Brooking, who has worn the No. 9 shirt for West Ham this season, played the second half as substitute for John Charles when the Hammers were here last season.

He is another of West Ham's own local finds. As a schoolboy he played for Ilford, London and Essex, and gained a place in the England Boys team of season 1963-64.

In spite of their present position on the First Division chart, West Ham remain an attractive team to watch. How could they be otherwise with players as famous as Bobby Moore, Geoff Hurst and Martin Peters in their ranks?

Little can be written about any of this trio that is not already known. Moore, captain of West Ham and England, holds the O.B.E. for his services to football, and there is no more distinguished player in the game.

Yet there was an occasion when he had to stand by as reserve for a match on this ground. He was named as reserve to the England Youth team that beat Rumania here 4-2 in October, 1957 . . . but has long since outstripped in soccer stature every member of the chosen eleven that evening.

MANY CAPS

Hurst and Peters are also men of many caps. Hurst has made 31 appearances for England, and Peters had gained 30 full caps prior to playing as substitute in the match against Portugal last week.

This illustrious trio are, of course, all products of West Ham's nursery system.

The same can be said of Bobby Howe, Harry Redknapp and Peter Bennett. Howe, who wore the No. 4 shirt against us at Upton Park this season, first made impact as a member of the Thurrock Boys team.

Redknapp, a winger, comes from Poplar, and graduated through the East London and Middlesex Boys teams. A former England Youth international, he signed as an apprentice professional for the Hammers at Easter, 1962.

Bennett, who also is a forward, was born at Hillingdon, and played for Middlesex and England Boys before joining West Ham as an apprentice pro. in July, 1961.

BIG SIGNING

Full-back Billy Bonds was one of West Ham's biggest signings. He was born at Woolwich, and played for Kent Schools before signing for Charlton Athletic. An England Under-23 player, he was transferred from Charlton to West Ham in May, 1967.

Ron Boyce, who scored one of West Ham's Cup-winning goals against Preston in 1964, still comes very much into the senior reckoning. He is yet another of the Hammers' own products. He was born in West Ham, and graduated through the club's youth section.

Winger John Sissons, from Hayes in Middlesex, has 10 England Under-23 caps. He has been a full pro. with the Hammers since October 1962.

DEFENDERS' DAY OUT . . .

WE have had many splendid matches with West Ham, and considering the weather conditions, the game at Upton Park last season was probably the finest for thrills and good football.

Many of our other matches with the Hammers over the years provide lively discussion, but for the sake of brief reminiscence we revive today the events of that memorable 4-4 draw on this ground in December, 1962. It was, in fact, seven years ago to this very day.

The sharing of eight goals is a rarity, but that 4-4 draw commands attention for a special reason.

Six of the eight goals were scored by players occupying defensive positions! With the fluid system of tactics in vogue today, it is commonplace for players basically filling a defensive role to move upfield and snatch a goal.

Yet even today eyebrows would be raised at the scoring of six goals in one match by players filling a primarily defensive position.

FIRST BY SMITH

The first goal of the match was netted by John Smith, the present Swindon player, who was then at right-half for

FINE RECORD

Spurs Youth team again finished winners last Saturday in the South-East Counties League, Div. 1 match against Queen's Park Rangers at Cheshunt.

The Youth team have a fine record and deserve congratulations on what they have achieved to date. Only one of their 16 League matches has been lost, and in this competition they have scored 50 goals.

Nine other matches have been played in the various Youth Cup competitions, and not one has been lost.

Spurs played well against Rangers, and John Oliver struck the post in the opening minutes. Our first goal, halfway through the first half, was headed in by Billy Edwards after Phil Holder had played a firm ball to the far post.

Just before half-time Holder himself scored. Following a good midfield move, Holder found himself in possession with everyone expecting him to pass. He Spurs. Dave Mackay, operating in the other wing-half position, added a second for Spurs before Martin Peters, then West Ham's right-half, gathered a chipped pass from Bobby Moore to reduce our lead.

The score stood at 2-1 at half-time, but Joe Kirkup, West Ham's right-back, dashed upfield to shoot a brilliant equaliser a few minutes after the restart.

Then Mackay put us in front again. Five goals, all from defenders! Ronnie Boyce, playing inside-right, broke the sequence by scoring for the Hammers, and Tony Scott put them ahead from outside-left.

In a rousing finish to a tremendous game, Mackay equalised for Spurs with his own third goal of the match. Although that match also was played on the Saturday before Christmas, the gate was 44,106.

The teams that day were:

SPURS: Brown, W.; Baker, Henry; Smith, J., Marchi, Mackay; Medwin, White, Smith, R., Greaves and Jones.

WEST HAM: Standen; Kirkup, Burckett; Peters, Brown, Moore; Brabrook, Boyce, Sealey, Byrne and Scott.

shaped to pass, but foxed Rangers by hammering the ball into the net.

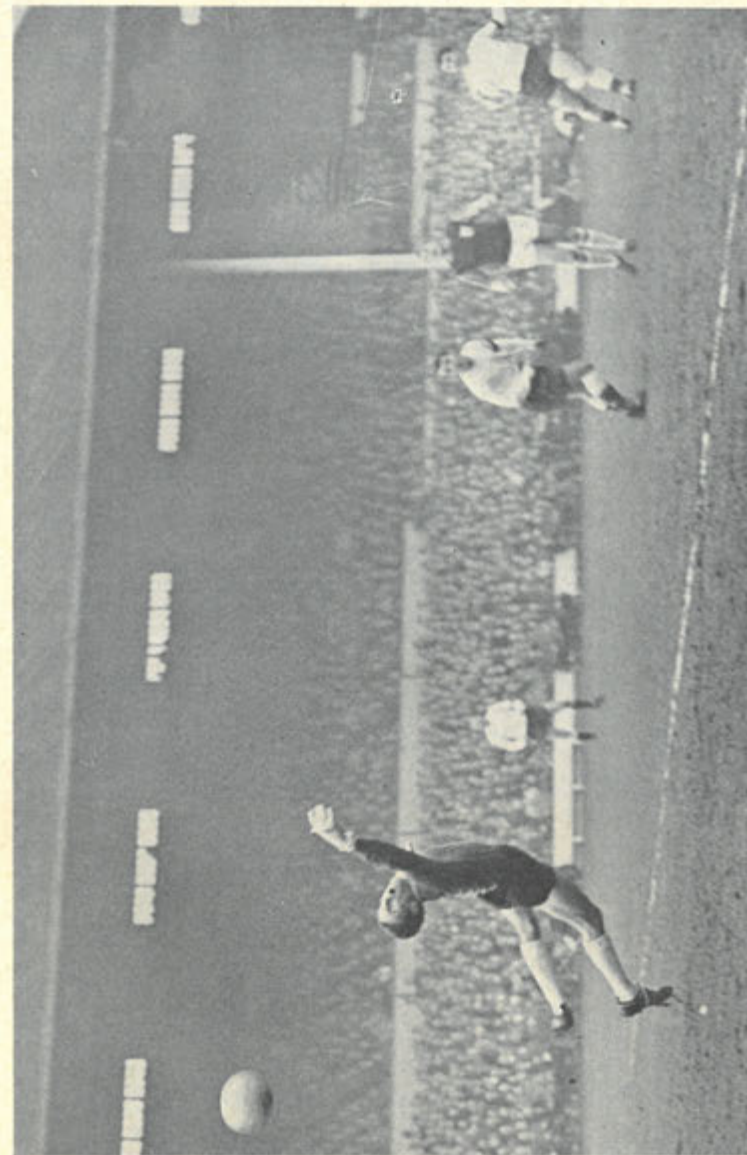

Spurs pressed for much of the game, and were also sound defensively. Barry Daines had a lot less to do than his opposite number in Rangers' goal.

Team: Daines; R. Almond, M. Embleton; Dillon, M., Edwards, Holder; J. Oliver, R. Gilson, Clarke, Turner and G. Plackett.

The Youth team have been drawn at home to Arsenal in the Third Round of the F.A. Youth Cup. We have already defeated London opponents in West Ham and Orient in this competition.

HANDBOOK

The Club Handbook for this season is still on sale and copies can be purchased on the Ground today, price 2s. or by post 2s. 6d. The Handbook contains a mass of information and is profusely illustrated. It is a publication that is certain to appeal to every supporter of the Club.

In Passing

Greetings to David Staines, our apprentice forward, and Steve Perryman . . . David celebrates his birthday today, and Steve's is tomorrow.

Ken Hancock, who kept goal against Ipswich, his former club, here last Saturday, is the only player who is ever-present in our Combination team this season.

Spurs Juniors beat Crystal Palace in a friendly match at Cheshunt last Saturday by 3—1. Scorers: Mike Flanagan 2 and Steve Outram.

Today Spurs Reserves play their third Football Combination Cup match away to Leicester City.

West Ham's last win on this ground was by 4—3 in November 1966.

Know the Game

Do you know the answers to these situations?

A player takes a penalty-kick, and hits the post. The ball rebounds to him without being touched by any other player.

What would the referee's decision be if the player drove the ball into the net, and what would it be if he shot wide of the goal?

The referee's decision would be the same either way. He would award an indirect free-kick against the player taking the penalty-kick for playing the ball a second time before it had been touched or played by a second player.

The free-kick would be awarded from the spot where he played the ball a second time.

Provision for this offence is covered by Law 14, governing the penalty-kick.

FLASHBACK

TO 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK-END

SPURS, nine points ahead of Sheffield Wednesday, the next club, at the top of the Second Division, were held to a 1—1 draw on this ground by Brentford.

Eddie Baily opened the score for Spurs after a free-kick had rebounded from the crossbar, but Billy Sperrin, the Brentford inside-left, who had played for Spurs as an amateur during the war, equalised before half-time.

Ron Greenwood, now West Ham's manager, played centre-half for Brentford that day.

Team: Ditchburn; Ramsey, Withers; Nicholson, Clarke, Burgess; Scarth, Bennett, Duquemin, Baily and Medley. Attendance: 42,297.
