The Big Moment

THE DEMANDING weeks of pre-season training are now well in the past, and our narrow defeats in the warm-up matches away to Hearts and Glasgow Rangers have been consigned to the record book.

Our opening League fixture, away to Wolverhampton Wanderers on Saturday, is also now behind us, and the big moment is at hand. All our supporters will share with us the glow of anticipation that always attends the opening home match, and in facing Newcastle United on what we hope is a fine August evening, we have an attractive fixture for our first League game here in season 1971-72.

It is also a fixture that calls for a big effort on the part of our players. We know Newcastle lost 2-0 at Crystal Palace on Saturday, but last season's results point a warning. Although Newcastle finished well below us on the final First Division chart last season, they beat us both here and at St. James's Park.

That home defeat by Newcastle last season came as something of a shock. It followed a splendid run of 10 League matches, in which we had finished winners on eight occasions and had drawn the other two.

Newcastle were here in November, and it was not until the New Year that we regained the winning path in the League. It was a turn of events we have no wish to see repeated tonight.

GREAT FINISH

Spurs improved on their form in the pre-season matches in Scotland to bring back a point from Wolverhampton on Saturday. It was a match in which plenty of good football was played, but few of our many supporters at Molineux could have expected a draw when we were two down with only 10 minutes left.

Bobby Gould's first-half goal and the 71st-minute penalty converted by Jim McCalliog left us with a bleak outlook until Martin Chivers grabbed his chance following an error by goalkeeper Phil Parkes. Then came the dramatic late equaliser from the head of Alan Gilzean.

Team: Jennings; Kinnear, Knowles, Mullery, England, Beal, Coates, Perryman, Chivers, Peters and Gilzean. John Pratt stood by as substitute.

In view of the regrettable crowd incidents that have occurred elsewhere, we earnestly appeal for a good standard of behaviour from spectators on this Ground. We know this appeal is unnecessary as far as the vast majority of spectators is concerned, but an unruly few can damage the reputation of a club and the image of the game in general.

NEW APPRENTICES

Several new apprentices have been signed by the Club. They include Roger Gibbins and Bobby Scarth, both forwards, and both sons of former Spurs players.

Roger's father is Eddie Gibbins, who played for us as a centre-half in the early 1950s, and later held a post on our office staff, and Bobby is the son of Jimmy Scarth, a Spurs forward of the same period.

Another new apprentice forward is Chris Jones from Jersey. It will interest many supporters to know that Len Duquemin, our former centre-forward, who is probably the most successful footballer ever produced by the Channel Islands, went over with Charlie Faulkner, our chief scout, to discuss matters with Chris prior to his signing.

John Cook and John Margerrison are both midfield players. Cook lives at Dagenham and played for Barking, London and Essex Boys. Margerrison was born at Boreham Wood, and played for Hertfordshire Boys.

Gary Anderson and Keith Osgood are both defenders. Gary played in the same Barking, London and Essex Boys teams as Cook, while Keith, a schoolboy international, was born at Isleworth.

SUMMER MOVES

Goalkeeper Ken Hancock, full-back John Collins, midfield man Ray Bunkell and striker Neil Johnson all left Spurs for new clubs during the close season.

Collins, who made five appearances for the Welsh Under-23 team during his time as a Spur, was transferred to Portsmouth. Hancock, who joined us from Ipswich Town in March, 1969, and made a number of League and Cup appearances as deputy for Pat Jennings, is now with Bury.

Johnson, who had been a full professional with us since June, 1964, and made several first-team appearances for the Club, signed for Torquay United last month, and Bunkell, a regular Combination player here for the last three seasons, is now with Swindon Town.

We wish all these players every success with their new clubs.

LAST SEASON

When Newcastle were here last season, it was David Craig who struck the first blow. He crashed in a brilliant goal for Newcastle in the first half for what was the first conceded by us in the League on this ground since the visit of Leeds United in mid-August.

As Newcastle were here towards the end of November, Craig brought to an end a splendid defensive record. After Tommy Gibb had scored a second in the second half for Newcastle, Spurs rallied, and Martin Chivers netted in spectacular style.

Spurs went close late in the game, but Newcastle managed to hold out.

SPURS: Jennings; Kinnear, Knowles, Mullery, England, Collins, P., Gilzean, Perryman, Chivers, Peters and Pearce (sub. Neighbour).

NEWCASTLE: McFaul; Craig, Clark, Gibb, McNamee, Moncur, Robson, Dyson, Davies, Arentoft and Ford. Attendance: 38,873.

CLUB HANDBOOK

The Club Handbook for 1971-72 is on sale here on the ground this evening, and it is a publication that will interest every supporter of the Club. The cost is 12p or by post 15p.

The book is full of facts and figures on the Club and individual players. It also includes a foreword by the Chairman, Mr. Sidney A. Wale, and 28 full-page photographs.

The Club's tour to Japan this summer is also dealt with in detail.

TEST YOUR KNOWLEDGE

1. How many times have Newcastle won the F.A. Cup since the last war?
  2. Can you name the former Spurs and Newcastle player who is now managing a Fourth Division club?
  3. Who scored Spurs' last goal of last season on this ground?
  4. Last February Newcastle transferred a forward to a London club. Who is he?
  5. Which club won the championship of the Second Division last season?
- The answers will be found on page 13

TONIGHT'S VISITORS

NEWCASTLE UNITED

THERE may be a new name or two in the Newcastle line-up this evening compared with the team fielded by our North-Eastern visitors in the corresponding match last season.

In Newcastle's goal, however, we expect to see the familiar figure of Iam McFaul, the Irish international, who missed only one League match last season.

McFaul was born at Coleraine, and made his name in the Irish League with the Linfield club. He left Linfield for Newcastle in November, 1966.

Right-back David Craig is also an Irishman, and he too has played for his country. He was born in Belfast, and has been with Newcastle since he was a youngster.

Frank Clark, who may wear the No. 3 shirt for Newcastle, was at one time a star of amateur football. He was a member of the Crook Town team that defeated Hounslow Town in the Amateur Cup Final of 1962.

Clark, who comes from Highfield in County Durham, has been a professional with Newcastle since November, 1962.

DEBUT HERE

Centre-half John McNamee has good reason to remember this ground. It was here that McNamee made his debut for Newcastle in December 1966. Spurs won the match 4-0.

Newcastle had signed McNamee from Hibernian. He is a Scot from Lanark, who played for Celtic before joining Hibs.

John Craggs is another defender who comes into the reckoning. He comes from the Durham area, and is another of Newcastle's own discoveries. Last season he made 11 First Division appearances.

One of Newcastle's bright hopes for the future is Irving Nattrass, who made his first full League appearance for the club in the No. 6 shirt in the final match of last season against Coventry City.

Nattrass is a product of the apprentice ranks at Newcastle. He has been a full professional since July of last year.

Half-back Tommy Gibb, who scored the second of Newcastle's goals here last season, is a former Scottish Under-23 player.

Born at West Lothian, he played for Armadale Thistle before joining Partick Thistle in 1963. Newcastle secured his transfer from Partick in August, 1968.

STAR NEWCOMER

The star newcomer to Newcastle this season is, of course, Malcolm MacDonald, signed from Luton Town in May.

Macdonald's scoring exploits with Luton last season attracted the attention of several big clubs, and it will be interesting to see how he performs against First Division defences this term.

Malcolm is a Londoner. He attended Queen's Manor School in Fulham, and played for the Fulham club after a spell with Tonbridge. It was in July, 1969 that Macdonald left Fulham for Luton.

Another newcomer is Terry Hibbitt, signed from Leeds United last week. Terry, a Bradford man, occupied a midfield role against Crystal Palace on Saturday.

Keith Dyson, another forward, is one of Newcastle's own discoveries. He made his League debut for the club three seasons ago, and last term made 34 full First Division appearances. Dyson comes from Consett.

LOCAL BOY

If David Young, a midfield player, is in Newcastle's team this evening, it will be his first appearance against us on this ground.

Young is a local Tyneside boy who established himself as a League player last season after making two appearances in the First Division in 1969–70.

Tommy Cassidy joined Newcastle from Glentoran, the Irish League club, in October of last year. Cassidy made his League debut for Newcastle in the No. 8 shirt at Southampton last November, but was not in the team that opposed us here a fortnight later.

John Tudor is the former Coventry City forward, who joined Newcastle from Sheffield United in January, and centre-half Ollie Burton is the well-known Welsh international, previously with Norwich City and Newport County.

A place in Newcastle's team may be found for full-back Ron Guthrie, who is one of the club's own local discoveries.

MAN IN CHARGE

The referee this evening is Mr. Ray Johnson of Lowestoft, who commenced as a local league official in 1956.

He graduated through the Eastern Counties League to the Football League line in 1963, and two years later became a Football League referee.

Mr. Johnson's top assignments include European Cup matches in Barcelona in 1966 and in Amsterdam the following year. He was a linesman in the F.A. Cup Semi-final between Spurs and Nottingham Forest on Sheffield Wednesday's ground in 1967.

Mr. Johnson, a personnel manager at a local shipyard, is married with two sons. His leisure-time activities include camping and badminton. He is also Chairman of his local league.

Referee Johnson's last match on this ground was the League fixture against Derby County in April.

Steve Perryman launched out in business during the summer in partnership with his brother, Bill. They have opened a sports outfitters in Uxbridge Road, Hayes.

Joe Kinnear also is extending his business activities. In partnership with a friend, Joe is now running a furniture shop in Hatfield.

One of the outstanding players in Newcastle's ranks before the war was Jack Hill, the giant centre-half, who came from Hetton-le-Hole in County Durham. That's where Ralph Coates comes from, and it is a point of interest that Hill also reached English international rank as a Burnley player.

Introducing Ralph Coates . . .

RALPH COATES was transferred from Burnley to Spurs in May. It was a move he was happy to make, and we like the way he sums it up.

"The move couldn't have been better," he tells us. "I have always been impressed by Tottenham Hotspur as a club, and if I had been given a choice, I would have opted for Spurs."

"It's not only the imposing ground and general set-up. I have always liked the type of football favoured by Tottenham. The attacking style and sporting approach of Spurs appeals to me."

Thank you, Ralph, for the compliments. We also like the sentiments expressed by our new star about his former club. He regards the relegation of Burnley last season as the biggest disappointment of his football life.

Coates has always appreciated that Burnley gave him his big chance as a youngster. And that chance was timed to perfection.

Ralph's home was at Hetton-le-Hole in County Durham, where he attended Eppleton Modern School. On leaving school he was ready to follow the general pattern of local life by taking a job at Eppleton Colliery.

Ralph planned to become an apprenticed fitter, and had already been interviewed when Burnley stepped in to offer him a fortnight's trial. He asked the colliery to postpone his medical examination.

Never can a postponement have had happier results! Instead of becoming an apprentice at the colliery like most of his Hetton pals, Coates became an apprentice professional with Burnley.

That's how Ralph started on the soccer trail. He had, of course, made his mark in schools football. A centre-forward, he played for the Lambton and Hetton District Boys team, and gained county honours with Durham. He played in the same Durham County team as Howard Kendall (Everton) and Frank Spraggon (Middlesbrough).

GREATEST THRILL

Ralph had always wanted to become a professional footballer, and Burnley's offer remains his greatest thrill.

Ideally, Sunderland would have been the club for Coates. He was a keen supporter of the Wearsiders in his schooldays, and recalls how he used to play in Saturday morning boys' matches before dashing off to Roker Park.

Ralph's Sunderland favourite was Len Shackleton, the former England forward, with centre-half Charlie Hurley not far behind.

Ralph's League debut for Burnley was at home to Sheffield United in December, 1964. He remembers how he put in extra training that week and even took his boots home to make sure they were properly studded.

Then came a heavy frost, and that meant a change of boots! But Burnley won 3-1, and Coates had overcome his first League hurdle. He has since risen to full international rank, and in addition to his four appearances for England, he has played eight times for the Under-23s.

His most memorable goal? "We were away to Everton, and I gathered the ball just over the halfway line after Burnley had repelled an attack," says Ralph. "Gordon West mistimed his run out of goal, and I managed to lob the ball over his head from about 40 yards."

Ralph and his wife, Sandra, like the outer reaches of North London, and are now in the process of settling in. They have a 15-month-old daughter, Lisa.

Ralph has quiet tastes. He has kept tropical fish, and is also keen on deep-sea fishing, five or six miles off shore. He claims no big catches, but has landed 12 in a day. He also likes gardening.

Ralph's preference on television is for sports programmes, and he likes to watch "News at Ten". His current car is a Cortina 1600E.

It was always Ralph's aim at Burnley to figure in a team that carried off a major honour. Fulfilment was denied him at Turf Moor, and he is now keen to realise his ambition with Spurs.

We hope he will not be kept waiting . . .

CHARLIE WALTERS

We were saddened to hear of the death, since the end of last season, of Charlie Walters, centre-half in our F.A. Cup-winning team of 1921.

Charlie was born at Cambridge, but signed for Spurs after making a name with Oxford City. That was during season 1919-20, and in the following season he gained a regular place in our League side, and therefore gained a Cup-winner's medal at an early stage of his career.

After making more than a hundred League appearances for Spurs, Walters was transferred to Fulham in 1926. He was a popular and much-respected player in the Spurs team of his time, who was extremely fast for a half-back.

After his football days had ended, Charlie returned to Oxfordshire, where he was living until the time of his death in May. The photograph, reproduced above and taken in his early days as a Spur, will revive memories for many of our old-time supporters.

★ ★ ★ ★

Little publicity was given to it at the time, but Spurs' Youth team won the International Youth Tournament staged by the Feijenoord Club of Rotterdam in May. Newcastle were the only other British club among the 10 to compete in this tournament.

★ ★ ★ ★

Laurie Brown, our former centre-half, who managed King's Lynn last season, has now taken over as player-manager of Stockton, the north-eastern club.

★ ★ ★ ★

Mike Dillon, our Reserve defender, was a regular member of the England Youth team that won the "Little World Cup" competition in Czechoslovakia in May. Congratulations, Mike.

GOOD START

Spurs Res. 3, Fulham Res. 0

The Reserves, champions of the Football Combination last season, made a good start here on Saturday against Fulham.

The margin of victory in no way flattered Spurs, although Fulham managed to keep us out throughout the first half.

Spurs' first goal, early in the second half, was scored by Jimmy Pearce following a corner on the left. Jimmy's first shot was beaten out, but he made no mistake with his second attempt.

Ray Clarke, top scorer for our Youth team last season, netted the second with his head from close in after Fulham's goalkeeper had mis-handled the ball.

Clarke had stepped in to fill the place of Roy Woolcott, who was kept out of the team by a stomach upset, and he certainly made the most of the occasion.

OFFSIDE GAME

Ray was the scorer of our third goal late in the game, when an attempt by Fulham to play the offside game failed completely. Pearce was in possession, but Ray Evans sized up the situation well by calling for the ball and starting to run.

Fulham's goalkeeper managed to push the ball out, but Clarke came in seemingly from "nowhere" to hook the ball into the net.

Team: Daines; Evans, Want, Naylor, Collins, Holder, Pearce, Souness, Clarke, Jenkins and Neighbour.

HAMMERS HELD

West Ham Youth 1, Spurs Youth 1

The Youth team started their South-East Counties League programme with a match against West Ham United at Chadwell Heath on Saturday morning.

West Ham took an early lead, but Spurs were level after half an hour when a home defender placed the ball in his own goal.

There was no more scoring following an even first half, but Spurs had enough of the second-half play to have won. We created openings, but failed to make the most of them.

The Youth team has to be re-shaped each season, and we fielded a particularly young side. In the circumstances this was a pleasing performance.

Team: P. Matthews; Anderson, D. Flockhart, Boughey, Osgood, McGrath, Jones, C., Margerrison, Mabee, Clapton and Gibbins.

Spurs' line-up in both the pre-season matches away to Hearts and Glasgow Rangers was: Jennings; Kinnear, Knowles, Mullery, England, Beal, Coates, Perryman, Chivers, Peters and Gilzean. No substitutes were used in the Hearts game, but against Rangers Ray Evans replaced Joe Kinnear, who left the field injured early in the second half. Evans then sustained an injury himself, and was replaced by Peter Collins.

Bobby Steel, who captained Spurs before the First World War, celebrated his 83rd birthday in June, and we are pleased to hear he is in good health. Mr. Steel, who lives at Winchmore Hill, still displays a lively interest in the Club's affairs.

The Spurs Shop, which will be available for the sale of souvenirs, football kits, bags, etc., will be opened in the near future close to the main entrance to the Ground in the High Road.

CROWD SAFETY

The Club strongly recommends that both standing and seated spectators should avoid congestion on staircases and at the main exits around the ground by not rushing from their positions at the end of the match.
